HEADQUARTERS BULLETIN

As the time approaches when the old soldiers will gather again at the Capital City, the commit-tees who will have charge of their reception and entertainment find that the pressure of matters requiring attention grows greater. A good many minor details of the arrangements have been de-layed until it could be learned exactly what amount of money would be available; but now that the District bill has been passed, placing $90,000 to the credit of the Finance Committee, the work will move along rapidly and everything be in readiness for the visitors when they arrive. is expected that the total amount of cash available will be $150,000. At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee plans were adopted for the thorough canvass of the city for the purpose of collection of the balance of the $50,000 which must be raised before the appropriation made by Congress can be used. Wm. Simmons, 1432 Wharton street, Philadelphia. Pa.: It seems strange that no effort has been made to have a Reunion of the survivors of the U. S. Marine Corps since the close of the war. And now an opportunity presents itself in connection with the approaching annual Encampment. This is a good time to have a Reunion of the few of us who are left. No better or more appropriate place could be selected than Washington. Comrades, let me hear from you, and if favorable to my sugion arrangements can be made for a Reunion n Washington next September and the formation of an organization. Full particulars will be sent to all who forward names and addresses.

FROM THE BAY STATE.

Doings of Interest to Veterans and Their Friends.

EDITOR NATIONAL TRIBUNE: "There is one thing the next National Encampment ought to do. It ought to wipe out all of the Ritual except the obliration. You know Gen, Sherman said it didn't take him two minutes to become a soldier of the United States, but it took him half an hour to get into the Grand Army, which he believed was not as it should be." This suggestive remark was made to me the other day by a veteran who has been a Grand Army man and "worked at it" for more than a quarter of a century. His opinion is shared by many other veterans. It is an open question whether the Order has not suffered more than it has profited by its organization along the lines of ritualistic Orders. There was no good and convincing reason why this should have been so. We could surely have had a secret Order without it. The revolt against the flummery of the three degrees might well have been carried further. The veterans are getting too old to persist in this line of work and ought to have something to do at their regular meetings at this late day.

It was a red-letter day with Fletcher Webster Post, 13, Brockton, the 13th, and red-hot besides It was the day selected by this Post to celebrate its silver anniversary, and while the excessive warmth diminished the attendance somewhat, it was on the whole a highly-successful occasion. The celebration began in the afternoon by the assembling of the Post, the Relief Corps and other invited guests in one of the public halls, where words of welcome were spoken by Commander B. E. Savery, who closed by introducing Comrade Seth L. French, a Past Commander, as Master of Ceremonies. He made a short address. Then followed an invocation, singing by the Schubert Ladies' Quartet, of Bossion, recitations by Mrs. H. B. Holmes, a poem by Mrs. Powers, and a historical address by Rev. George B. Lawton, of the Post. From this address, which was full of interest, I learned that the Post was instituted July I, 1867, by Department Com-mander Austin S. Cushman, with 14 charter members. Ten of these are living and five are still members of the Post. The Post went unnamed for some time, but as the majority of its charter members had been members of the Webster regimembers had been intenders of the votation and ment they finally adopted the name of their old Colonel, Fletcher Webster. The Post has 555 names on its rolls. It now numbers 320. Between 50 and 60 have died. Upwards of $10,000 have been expended to relief. The Post has recently formed an associate membership. The speaker paid a very glowing tribute to the Relief Corps auxiliary

After reminiscent remarks by Comrade A. S Cushman, who chartered the Post, adjournment was had to the banquet spread in another hall. After an hour's enjoyment of this part of the program, the flow of soul began under the direction of Comrade John Barbour, who had been introduced as toastmaster of the evening. He called up in turn Mayor Keith, Department Commander Churchill, Capt. John G. B. Adams, the State Sergeant-at-Arms; Capt. Chas. Williams; Mrs. Mary G. Deane, President W.R.C.; Mary E. Elliot, De-partment Secretary of the W.R.C.; Mrs. Emma B. Lowd, Past Department President; B. Read Wales. Assistant Inspector-General, and Past Department Commanders George S. Evans and John D. William S. Wells, Rear-Admiral Commanding, New Haven, Conn.: The time is rapidly approach-ing for the grand Reunion of the Naval Veterans' Association which will be held in Baltimore in September, and our appearance in Washington at the 26th National Encampment of the G.A.R. Arrangements have been completed for these rallies as far as headquarters are concerned, except the matter of some minor details, which will be given in due time. Circulars have been issued by Commodore W. O. Saville, and have been mailed to all our Association commanding officers, in which information is given in relation to accommodations at the various hotels and lodging-houses in Balti-more and cost of same. For further information address Commodore Saville. It has been decided to change the day of the parade in Baltimore to Saturday, the 17th of September. The program as announced in General Order No. 2 will therefore be reversed for Friday and Saturday, otherwise there is no change now contemplated. It is therefore not absolutely necessary that shipmates should arrive in Boltimore until the morning of the parade except the delegates and those entitled to a vote in the Convention, who should certainly be on hand on Friday morning, the 16th.

F. A. Dwight, Secretary, Jefferson City: Reunion 10th Mo. Cav., Jefferson City, July 30,

The Reunion of the veterans of Cattaraugus County took place at Salamanca. The Cattaraugus Martial Band furnished the music. An extended, varied and very entertaining program was rendered in the Opera House in the afternoon, Col. Fassett, of the 64th N. Y., presiding. There were present members of the 64th, 37th, and 154th N. Y., large number of Sons of Veterans, and a host of friends of the veterans. In the evening another interesting meeting was held, at which Col. V. O. spencer, of the 37th, gave a brief sketch of the attle record of that regiment. Two companies, H and I, were raised in Cattaraugus County, and were the first from this County to offer their services in defense of the Union. The 37th participated in numerous battles. The two years' term of service expired just before Chancellorsville, but the regiment voluntarily remained and took a creditable part in that memorable contest. Comrade T. R. Aldrich, of the 154th, gave a very interesting description of the 154th in the battle of Chancellorsville. This was the first engagement of the lotth, and, through lack of judgment on the part of the corps commander, the division in which it was placed was unexpectedly struck in the rear by stonewall Jackson and routed with much loss The 154th, however, helped hold the rebels in check until troops could be got in position to beat back the rebel forces. Capt. Wm. L. Ross, of Boston, of of the 64th, spoke of the achievements of that organization, and read its record as given by THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE, which showed it to be one of the 300 fighting regiments of the war.

The Fulton County Veterans' Association has secured a valuable relic. The old battleflag of the 43d Ga, was found among the unclaimed packages of an express company the other day, and it was sold at public auction. The flag is a dilapidated piece of bunting, and is torn and riddled with buiets. The relic was bought by one of the members of the association, who immediately gave it to the Decision National Court of Inquiry-The Law of the Order Fully Sustained.

In closing up the affairs of her administration, 1890, '91, Ada F. Clarke, Department President of Ohio, solicited advertisements for the fly-leaves of the Convention Roster, in accordance with instructions of Seventh Department Convention, to reduce the expense of publication. She received all moneys due on advertising, receipting for the same, but made no report to the Department Treasurer of moneys collected. In publishing the Journal of Proceedings she also solicited and receipted for advertising, making no report to the Department Treasurer. Charges were brought on the Roster by Past Department President Emma F. Koons, but the Department Council declined to ordera court of inquiry, and the case went on appeal to the National President, who ordered a National Court. The defense of Past Department President Clarke before the Court was that the soliciting of advertising was a private enterprise, and that moneys and goods retained were in the nature of compensation for personal services, or for the payment of bills incurred in closing up the affairs of her administration. The verdict of the Court on the Roster appears in Special Orders, No. 4. The collection of money for the issuing of the Journal is in the hands of the Department of Ohio, as per order of Ninth Annual Convention. The Department of Ohio, W.R.C., is an incorporated body, and can sue and be sued, and is fully empowered to collect all outstanding claims of whatever character. The National Court of Inquiry comprised Past National President Annie Wittenmyer, President of the Court; Past Department President Helen S. Morrison, of Pennsylvania, Judge-Advocate; National Secretary Ella Cobean, of Illinois; Past De-Abbie R. Flagg, of Michigan, and Jennie E. Meyerhoff, of Indiana. Clarke, both members of Canton Corps, 4, of the Department of Ohio, whereby a court of inquiry was appointed by National President, as found in Special Orders, No. 3, to try the case, the Court of Inquiry convened at Canton, O., May 24-26, 1892, and after carefully considering all the evidence find the accused, Ada F. Clarke, as follows:

SENTENCE. 1. The sentence imposed by the Court is suspen-sion from membership in the Woman's Relief Corps and from all rights and privileges in the Order, except payment of dues, for the period of five years, and that she be required to pay over to the Department Treasurer of Ohio Woman's Relief

They also disapprove of the creating of a special fund by advertising in the Roster and withholding a full statement and the proceeds thereof from the Department Treasurer, who is the proper custodian of the money and other property of the Woman's Relief Corps, to be out only by orders of the Secretary, approved by the President, according to Rules and 3. They are not satisfied with the said Ada F. Clarke's statement of the disposition of the funds, which, from the accompanying letters and statements of witnesses, were received for advertising solicited for publication in the Roster of the Woman's Relief Corps according to the plan recommended by the Department Convention of Ohio.

4. They appreciate the fact that the said Ada F. Clarke is an old and efficient worker, and have acporded to her all the leniency possible under the syldence. 5. They also disapprove the publicity previously given to the case, and have reason to believe that members of the Order have violated their obligaion of secrecy, and have laid themselves liable to discipline under Chapter V, Article VIII, Sections 2 and 3. Having carefully reviewed the testimony in full as given before the Court of Inquiry, I hereby approve the sentence of the Court, and the said Ada F. Clarke, Department Counselor of Ohio Woman's Relief Corps, is suspended from all rights and privileges of the Order of the Woman's Relief Corps, except the payment of dues, for five years from date, and further is required to pay over to Corps $37, the amount not satisfactorily accounted for in testimony as given before the Court of In-

EIGHT YEARS OLD. DEAR TRIBUNE: A delightful occasion was that of the celebration of the eighth anniversary of Appomattox Corps, 5, Oakland. The evening opened with an interesting program of recitation song, and fancy dancing by the little misses, after which followed refreshments, amusements, and sociability. This Corps has been the means of accomplishing untold good among the soldiers who served their country so faithfully and their families by relieving them when in distress of any kind, and in consequence hundreds bless the members of Appomattox Corps. It was organized June 12, 1884, and began with 29 charter members, only seven of whom are left, namely, Mesdames Parritt, Park, Smyth, Borland, Farwell, V. Ames Leak, and A. A. Cannon. Six of its members have passed from the life that now is to the life eternal, where they await the grand reveille of the resurrection morning.

Through the efforts of these noble, patriotic women, though often through discouragements and failures, Appomattox Corps has been permanently and creditably established. Among the stanch and helpful friends who stood with them in their pioneer work was Capt. W. R. Thomas, then in command of the Post, and Elizabeth D'Arcy Kinne, Past National President, who opened the way for the work. During the period of its existence 2,450 relief visits have been made, and financial assistance rendered to 500 comrades and their families, for which $2,160 has been expended. Three hundred dollars was also given to the California Relief Corps Home. Those of its members who have been honored with Department offices are Mes-dames Borland, B. Jane Russell, Farwell, Sherman, and Jesse Thomas. This Corps can truly say, with bonest hearts, that they have lived up to their motto, "Fraternity, Charity, and Loyalty," in thought, word, and deed. They may be sure that they command the deepest respect of the community in which they have labored for so many years.-Gertrude Gallagher, Department Corresponding Secretary, San Francisco.

IN THE RIGHT LINE. DEAR TRIBUNE: J. T. Jones Corps, Vernon, Ill., sends greeting to sister Corps all over our great land, and wishes them to know that we are thoroughly in earnest in the cause which we espouse. Our Corps was organized in the Fall of 1891, has 30 members in good standing, and an active, earnest President and staff of officers, with the co-operation of all members. We have given two entertainments, both a success financially. We have an interest in the Andersonville fund; also in cottages at our State Soldiers' Home. Our Corps took an active part in Memorial Day exercises in connection with the G.A.R., and had in charge children to represent all the States and do honor to our noble dead who sleep in graves unknown. Each child was dressed suited to the occasion, each bear-ing a small flag. It was a beautiful sight, and must surely teach them to love their country.—Sarah J. Bobbett, Vernon, Ill. INDIANA ORPHANS' HOME. A MERITED TESTIMONIAL. DEAR TRIBUNE: Department President Sarah L. Rothrock, of lows, made a recent official visit to Past Department President Clara E. Nichols, now Department Secretary, at her home, West Union, which proved very pleasant to both. President Rothrock went to perform her duties as chairman of a committee chosen at the Ottumwa Convention and presented Past President Nichols the elegant silver table set which the Convention had voted her. This most beautiful table set consists of seven silver pieces—coffe-pot, sugar-bowl, creamer, spoon-holder and a water set of three pieces. On worker for the old soldiers and their dependents. Her husband is a disabled soldier, and she has an object lesson ever before her. She was first elected President of Kinsman Corps, at Des Moines, in 1884, and the following year was re-elected, and while holding this office was sent as delegate-at-large to the National Encampment at Portland, Me. In 1887 she was elected as Department President for lows, and the following year was made member of the National Council. A year later, when Annie Wittenmyer was elected National President, she appointed her National Inspector. A year ago last April she was again elected to the position of Department President. NEBRASKA TO HAVE A HOME. DEAR TRIBUNE: The Department of Nebraska is going to have a Relief Corps Home; at least they are making the effort. A resolution to that effect was made at our last Convention by Ann E. Hun ter, of Nebraska City, and a committee appointed, of which she is Chairman, to report at the next Convention as to their success in securing a location, etc. Chairman Hunter not long since visited Broken Bow, where she met with such a reception that she cannot say enough in praise of Theresa Wheeler, President of the Corps, and citizens generally. A joint meeting of Post and Corps was held, speeches made, indorsing the project of a Home, and very liberal offers were made of land, money and labor, if the Home should be located in or near their city. President Wheeler stated she would not be afraid to pledge $500 from her Corps alone. With their fine business blocks, school buildings, Courthouse, churches and residences, and the enterprise and energy of her people, the future of Broken Bow cannot be foretold. With such zealous workers as Amy E. Hunter associated with her there is no telling what will be accomplished before the year has passed away. The Department of Nebraska is in a flourishing condition, and numerous Corps being organized Our worthy President works early and late for the good of the Order. THEY KEPT THE DAY. Though too late for an extended report, Nebraska should be recorded for a better observance of Memorial Day than ever before. At Neligh the students from Gates College joined the Posts, Corps, and public-school children in making the day memorable. Eleven soldier graves were decorated. A white column, in memory of the unknown dead, was decorated by the W.R.C. A suggestion of Rev. M. L. Holt, who addressed an afternoon assemblage at the Opera House, is worthy of emulation. It was that out of respect to the surviving defenders of our country, the audience on all such occasion should rise when the Grand Army boys enter and remain standing until they are seated. He called upon all those who were in Andersonville and Libby Prison to stand, and there were four to rise. Matthewson Post and Corps and Sons of Veterans at Norfolk had impressive services, assisted by the citizens and the schools; and at Madison S. P. Chase Post and Corps were assisted by the Daughters of Veterans. Five soldier graves were decorated by the Post and children, the Corps decorating a monument to the unknown dead .- Blanche Allen, Department Corresponding Secretary, Mad-

THE DIVISIONS.

CALIFORNIA. The Committee on Drill of U. S. Grant Camp, 1, Division of Montana, extends a cordial invitation to all uniformed and armed Camps in this Division to take part in the competitive drill that will be and during the Commandery-in-Chief Encampment at Helena. All branches of the service-infantry, cavalry and artillery, may compete. There is no doubt that the drill will be a grand success, as they have cash prizes to the amount of $1,500. After the brothers of the Order at large have been so thoughtful and showed themselves as true Sons of Veterans, the Division Commander would regret very much if this Division did not show their appreciaion. Any of the companies that will take part in the drill will communicate direct with the Chairman, A. E. Veazle, Helena, Mont. MASSACHUSETTS.

The Massachusetts Division has, through the Division Council, taken upon itself the duty of furnishing the flags on each Memorial Day with which to decorate the graves of the Union soldiers who died in Andersonville Prison pen. Massachusetts is the first Division of the Order of Sons of Veterans to take up this grand work, and its example is worthy of emulation. Let all other Divisions fall in line and take up the glorious work. Col. Fletcher Webster Camp, 47, of Canton, enjoyed a "smoke talk" at Camp-room last week. Revere Post, 94, G.A.R., and members of the Sons of Veterans from surrounding towns were special guests of the Camp on this occasion. The Massachusetts Division has lost one of its ardest workers and brightest members. Patrick H. Donoghue, better known to the members as Patsey," was killed by the falling of a chimney at a fire in Lawrence, July II. The accident re-moves one who had brilliant prospects before him. Entering in the battle of life filled with energetic enterprise, his success as a young man offered greater opportunities for his future. Brother Donoghue was 23 years of age; by occupation a Reporter on the staff of the Lawrence American. He had been appointed a regular call member of the Fire Department but a short time, and on Monday evening, while talking with friends in the rooms of a club of which he was a member. Box 113 was rung on the fire-alarms and "Patsey" answered his first call as a regular member of the fire-fighters. Engine 5 was running a hose-line to the roof of the burning building; Brother Dono-ghue, at the bottom of the ladder, was assisting; suddenly the chimney topples over and the falling bricks strike the ladder-men and bury "Patsey" at the ground. His head is crushed by the blow and life is extinct. Thursday, July 14, the remains were buried with high honors. Brother Donoghue was an early worker in the Sons," was one of the first Captains of Camp 21, of Lawrence, Assistant Inspector of the Division in '91-'92, and was on June 3, at the Division Convention, elected an executive member of the Division Council. He was an able orator, and one who spoke and acted according to his convictions. Of a cheerful, fun-loving disposition, he was always agreeable and gentlemanly and sure of a welcome at all times among his acquaintances. His death is untimely and hard from the fact that on the next day he would have severed his connection with the Fire Department, as he had resigned in accord with the wishes of his father and brother; again, it was his first and last slarm as a regular, and but one thing can be said of his death—it was characteristic of the man; he died on duty, striving to aid others, illed with enthusiasm and energy to conquer the foe. His death is a great loss to his many friends and a sad blow to the family. That he was rected as an honorable young strated by the presence of the Mayor and City Council and distinguished citizens at the services, by the draping of buildings in the city, the tolling of the bells, and that it required three large wagons to hold the numerous floral tributes.

His memory is precious, his absence mourned but he has gone to a better world and a sweeter

An Attractive Novelty for Veterans

THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE has a new idea which must take immensely with the veterans, especially those who intend visiting the coming National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. It is this: To every one who will send us a club of 10 subscribers for one year, at $1 each, and his photograph, we will send

with his name, regiment, G.A.R. Post, and place of residence, and a FINE HALF-TONE PICTURE OF HIMSELF upon them. This is a great deal to put on one card, but we can and will do it. It is also semething that no one else has thought of, and it would cost the veteran a good many dollars to have done, if anybody had thought of it; but we will do it for anyone who sends us $10 for a club of 10 subscribers to THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE. The cards will be gotten up in the nicest possible way. On the upper right-hand corner will be a handsomely-embossed G.A.R. button; the left end will be occupied by a picture of the comrade, and on the rest of the space will be the lines giving his name, regiment, G.A.R. Post, and residence. These pictures will not be of the common newspaper illustration style, but artistic pertraits taken directly from the photographs, and an exact reproduction of them engraved on copper. They will be as fine as any picture which appears in the best books and magazines. They will ## be printed on heavy china cardboard.

ADVANTAGES OF THE CARD PICTURES. 1. All who attend Encampments and other soldier-gatherings meet many new friends and old acquaintances, with whom they exchange cards, and whom they desire to keep in remembrance. The mere name on the card is not always sufficient. They remember better how the men looked than they do their names. With a good picture on the card it will be many times more valuable, and be carefully cherished as a souvenir of the

1. The cards will be sent free to any one sending a club of 10 yearly subscribers at $1 each. Those who have already sent in names in competition for other premiums since Jan. 1, 1892, can have them transferred to this offer upon request, but they cannot make the names count upon more than one premium. 2. Those who are already subscribers to THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE can have 100 cards as above by sending in $3 more. New subscribers can have THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE for one year, and 100 cards, for $4. 3. A good photograph must accompany the order. Daguerreotypes, tintypes, and faded photographs will not make satisfactory pictures. The photograph sent will be returned if desired. 4. But one badge will be on the card—the button-badge of the G.A.R.—and only the lines giving the name, company, regiment, G.A.R. Post, and residence. If more than this
